KHLOE: DRESSED TO KILL

Khloe Kardashian Odom hit NYC on a mission on April 14. Teaming up with U by Kotex for the "Declaration of Real Talk" campaign, aimed at helping women speak freely about their bodies, Khloe took a sledgehammer to a wall covered with feminine-care euphemisms. She wrote on her Web site, "I did this for Kendall and Kylie — they were so uncomfortable talking about something that is natural and I would do anything to protect my baby sisters."

"I got to use a sledgehammer and everything, LOL," Khloe wrote on her Web site.
